MEMPHIS APPEAL.

LAWS THAT HARM THE STATE. BLACK MAIL.

In a country possessing free institutions, and where the People, by their Representatives, make the laws, and offences against the criminal code are triable by juries, no penal enactment of the Legislature is really a LAW, that does not express the convictions of the people as to the moral wrong and criminality of the act denounced.

Offences cannot be created by law. They must already have become such in the public estimation, and the law must simply express the general conviction, or it will be a dead letter. To this principle there is no exception. The people are not to be educated by legislation, nor can that improve the public morals. That work is to be done by other agencies,—and chiefly by the Press, the Pulpit and the Bar, each of which is either a missionary of the Truth, or does not acknowledge its duty, and becomes an emissary of the Devil, to mislead and corrupt the people, and blunt their moral sense, and darken their faculty of distinguishing the Right from the Wrong.

A dead law that still stands on the statute-book, is like a dead limb of a tree,—not merely useless,—for nothing is so in this world,—but harmful because it has died of disease, and its decay and death are in part those of the tree itself. All useless laws are bad laws. They are the fungi that grow out of the ulcers of the Commonwealth, or parasites upon it, like the mistleto, which hastens the decay of the oak, and thrives by its undoing.

We are not quite sure that the worst laws are not those which, running ahead of the popular convictions, attempt to punish as crimes acts that the general public opinion does not regard as criminal. Whenever a law becomes obsolete or a dead letter, or is admitted to be against the general conviction or in advance of it, it should be repealed: because it cannot but be treated with contempt; and the general disregard of one law, which may practically be violated with impunity, is contagious, and produces disregard of others whose enforcement the well-being of society demands.

We do not speak now of such laws as endeavor to stamp upon innocent and even laudable and patriotic acts the character of guilt,—such as an enactment that attempts to brand a struggle for independence by States or a Nation, as treason and rebellion of the individual citizen. These cannot repeal the convictions of the Human race, or buy the sanctions of history and posterity. We have in our mind such laws as those which declare killing in the duello to be murder, and class those who break them as felons and the outlaws of society; as those which prohibit gaming, and a score of others that are either dead letters on the statute book, or only serve to relieve the State of the burthen of paying respectable salaries to its officers of justice, and to enable the police of cities to levy a tax and create a revenue by compromising with the offenders.

Laws that have endeavored to make duelling dishonorable, by providing the punishment of death or the penitentiary for him who kills another on what the world persists in styling the field of honor, never have been and never will be enforced. The juries always acquit. They are the judges of the law, in the highest sense, because, as we have said, that alone is really a penal law, which expresses the convictions of the people, and this people each jury represents, and acts upon those convictions. All other laws, the People, by its juries, repeals, notwithstanding the utmost efforts of Judges to maintain them.

Legislators, whenever you cannot at all enforce a penal law, repeal it. If no one is punished for violating it, as is the case with the law against profane swearing, it is useless, and also injurious, because the disregard of one law breeds disregard of all. If it is only occasionally and at rare intervals enforced, against some poor devil who has no friends or character or money to fee an Advocate withal, there is so much the more reason for its repeal, because to acquit ten men and convict one, for the same offence, is an infamous injustice to the one.

Laws that proceed upon no philosophical principles, or any sound theory as to the nature and essence and proportional gravity of guilt, make the Codes of every nation iniquitous. Such are those that undertake to prevent the unlawful use of a thing, by prohibiting the possession of it, which is in no sense an offence, any more than it is an offence to possess those organs of the body that may be put to the uses of vice or violence. Such is the law against carrying concealed weapons, which never has been and never can be enforced, except accidentally and in isolated cases, and which the best citizen will, without any sense of wrong, disobey, if he has to traverse the streets of Memphis of a dark night.

The foolish old English law which punished as manslaughter the accidental and unintentional killing of another, has long since silently given up the ghost. But the criminal code of every State is still full of absurdity and injustice; and therefore it is that Jurors, bent on repealing its injustice, are too often led astray by ingenious counsel, and turn murderers loose upon society. Thus they, in the end, make laws which justify or at least excuse acts of actual guilt, upon the convenient ground of insanity, or other private wrongs, such as that for which Sickles murdered Barton Key. We do not mean that where one's wife or sister or daughter is seduced and ruined, that the Jury, the fact being conclusively proven, ought not to acquit the slayer of the villain who has done that which is of darker guilt than murder itself; for it is the settled public opinion and conviction, and so it ought to be, that so great a criminal deserves death; and whether this conviction is or is not enacted into law, it is the law, and will some time get itself enacted everywhere.

Nevertheless there are unjust convictions also in the public mind, which perpetrate enormous injustices, and protect villains at the same time. Such is that opinion which utterly outlaws the woman who has lost the jewel of her chastity, under whatever temptation or by whatever villainy of man. Her irrevocable condemnation by the whole sisterhood of woman, the stern barring by them against her of all the avenues by which she might return to respectability, lessen the guilt of the seducer in the general estimation almost to nothing. Worse crimes, let us boldly say, are every day committed by the sleek hypocrites who frequent the churches and offer up long prayers, by men of business in their commercial dealings, and by those in the public service, than that committed by the poor creature who daily sells herself for money, and has in all the wide world no one to pity her or to believe that she is not all evil, except God her Father, who, notwithstanding her sin and shame, looks down upon her with compassion from the heights of heaven. His love surrounds her always, while He scorns the apostate, the money-changer of the Temple, the false Priest, the faithless public servant, the cold, the selfish and the unfeeling, the Apostate and the Hypocrite, the Seducer and the knave who thrives by other's losses.

There is a still more malignant evil that afflicts the body politic in cities, than any that we have mentioned. It is the demoralizing custom of exempting offenders against the laws from punishment, and in effect licensing the immorality which the law condemns and commands its ministers to extirpate,—a result that is effected by the levying of black-mail, or as is done by the Police authority in Memphis, a monthly tribute upon the keepers of gaming houses and the unfortunate inmates of houses of illfame. We have made some inquiry into this practice, which is itself a crime, and know the prices paid to the Police, for immunity from prosecution, by men and women. Although a simple robbery, it is a regular source of revenue, and deserves, above every thing else in this city, the vigilant attention of the Grand Jury. If the laws for the suppression of such houses cannot be enforced, let them be repealed, for they are simply contemptible and bring the whole penal law into contempt. If such houses are a necessity of society, as would seem to be the case in every country, it would be better to license them at once, than to permit the secret system of black-mailing, which offers the opportunity and holds out the temptation to those who should enforce the laws, to steal.

Who knows the amount thus levied monthly in Memphis? Who knows the number of men and women thus virtually licensed to ply their vocations? Who knows how much of the money thus received is accounted for?

So much as this we learn from one who has had opportunity to be well informed, that the sum of one hundred dollars per month is regularly levied upon every gaming house, twenty-five dollars a month on the keeper of every house of illfame, and from ten to fifteen dollars a month on each of the unfortunates, who more deserve commiseration than to be plundered. How these levies are accounted for, we do not know. They are all illegal exactions and extortions, not one jot more justifiable than those of the banditti of the Appenines, who capture a traveler; demand a ransom for him of his friends; if they refuse, cut off an ear and send it to them, and upon another refusal stab the victim and throw him into a ravine.

Certainly these moneys, shares of the wages of vice and debauchery and of the plunder of the gaming table, do not appear accounted for in the monthly reports of moneys collected by the Police. The statistics of the establishments so taxed are not given to the public. We propose to take steps to procure them.

We do not charge and of course do not mean to insinuate, that any of these moneys are appropriated to private uses. We only say that it is quite possible for that to be done without detection, if greed or inclination prompts to it. We shall not, even by insinuation, impeach the honesty of any public officer, if he be only a policeman, without proof of the fact.

We are quite aware, also, that the same system of black-mailing prevails in other cities, perhaps in all. Whether the same absence of responsibility, the same non-accountability prevails elsewhere, we do not know. It is the system that we denounce, and not individuals,—the whole system of selling immunity for vice or profligacy or crime, for the payment of a monthly stipend. That it prevails elsewhere makes it none the less abominable. It makes the public to be the secret partner of the gambler and prostitute, sharing the profits of their trade, while its laws declare them infamous. It is infinitely worse than the tax levied by Vespasian; for it sells for money the privilege of doing what it in the same breath proscribes as infamous. It is an equal outrage on the parties, because it punishes them by penalties, without trial and conviction, and, as to the courtezans, absolutely without any law whatever. These are dealt with hardly enough, without oppression by officers of the law; and there is no warrant of law for entering a house, when there is no disturbance or disorderly conduct to be quelled, arresting a number of women not in the commission of any offence known to the law, incarcerating them, dragging them before a Commissioner, to sink them lower than before in their own estimation, that they may, through mortification and despair resort to even more ruinous courses, in order by fleecing them without authority of law and for no offence known to the law, to swell the monthly report of fines, and increase the revenue of a city, or help pay the expenses of the police, with moneys wrung from the miserable or the vicious.

The truth is that the whole business of police justice in this city, so far as we are able to judge, the imposition of exorbitant fines by arbitrary Magistrates on poor devils whose worst offence is that they are unfortunate, or weak with the mere frailties of human nature, the finings without law, and the general vagaries of the magistracy are a singular mixture of the absurd and iniquitous; but there is nothing in it all so utterly indefensible, so reprehensible, so much the patron of vice and debauchery, as the system of levying black mail. It is a misdemeanor also; for the Code, (Art. 4788), punishes by fine not exceeding $300, and imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months, any person who, having knowledge of the commission of any offence punishable by fine, takes any money or valuable consideration or gratuity, upon any agreement or understanding, express or implied, to conceal such offence, or not to prosecute the same, or not to give evidence of it. If this wholesome law cannot be enforced, and the system of black-mailing be thus put an end to, it should be repealed; that the ministers of the law and officers of justice should not be the breakers of the law, and always saturated with the inclination and having the opportunity, to take bribes.

Gen. WILLIAM T. HASKELL

Now being compiled and arranged

By Rev. R. H. RIVERS.

SUBSCRIPTIONS are solicited to this work, which, when compiled, will embrace between four and five hundred pp. pages, printed upon calendered paper in bold, clear type, and bound in a creditable manner.

Gen. HASKELL was one of the most brilliant men and eloquent orators that Tennessee has ever given to our common country. This will be shown not only by a brief and truthful narrative of the chief incidents of his eventful life, but by presenting the reader with his Remains, consisting of Poems, Essays, Letters and Orations.

If the personal friends and admirers of the great Tennessean will subscribe liberally at once, the work can be delivered by November, 1868.

The profits arising from the sale of the work will be devoted to erecting a monument to his memory.

TERMS—$3 per copy, payable on delivery.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.

PLATFORM OF THE TENNESSEE DEMOCRACY.

1st. The Conservative men of Tennessee, putting aside all questions decided by the war, accept the title of 'Democrats,' and formally unite themselves with the Democratic party as it now exists.

2d. The question of the right of a State to secede from the Union has been decided by arms, and that decision should be accepted as final and conclusive.

3d. Nevertheless, while the Constitution makes the Federal Government supreme, it is so only with well defined limitations and restrictions, leaving the States large rights and powers over their domestic concerns, and making them coequal in respect of such rights; and these rights have not been impaired by the result of the war, or the powers of the General Government aggrandized by it, to the endangerment of public liberty.

4th. The extinguishment of African Slavery is recognized as a fact, ratified by a binding Constitutional Amendment.

5th. The investiture of negroes with the right of suffrage, by the Congress of the United States, and the disfranchisement of white men, by the same authority, is a gross usurpation of power, and a policy unjust, unwise and oppressive, and tending to excite a war of races: the white men of America are entitled to superiority and supremacy in the administration of the Federal and State governments; and any measure intended to deprive them of it, or to divide or impair it, greatly endangers the perpetuity of free republican institutions.

6th. The faith of the nation is pledged to the payment of the national debt, according to the terms of the laws under which the bonds were issued, and not otherwise. The time of payment of the bonds ought not to be extended; the principal of the five-twenty bonds ought to be paid in currency, and the money granted to the National banks to be withdrawn.

7th. The Government bonds should be taxed in the hands of the bondholders, equally with other property.

8th. The doctrines and practices of the Radical party, which endeavors, by encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government, to absorb in the Legislative Department all powers, tend to the destruction of the Republican system of Government and the civil liberties of the people.

9th. Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever State or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-Republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the rights of election by the people and the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

10th. Andrew Johnson the first choice of the Democracy of Tennessee; but their Delegates left free to unite in selecting another as the candidate for the Presidency.

TENNESSEE.

—The Nashville Gazette, of July 2d, says: "A very sudden death occurred yesterday at police headquarters. Mr. H. H. Owen, who has for some months past acted as police clerk, was taken with a violent attack of hemorrhage, and died in a few minutes. Medical aid was called in, but no relief could be rendered, the excessive flow of blood caused suffocation, and each effort to breathe only hastened his death. Mr. Owen is an Englishman by birth, and was appointed one of the Metropolitan Police, and last winter, after having an attack of hemorrhage, the Commissioners gave him the place above named in the office, which he has filled faithfully, and was always courteous and accommodating to every person with whom he had business or intercourse. His remains was removed at once to his residence by his friends and fellow officers."

—The same paper gives the following item: A negro girl named Fanny Scott was before the police court yesterday morning on a charge of passing a counterfeit $50 note. The case was continued for further hearing this morning. The girl has no doubt been imposed upon by some sharper who is lurking around distributing the spurious stuff on the ignorant classes.

—The Nashville Banner of the 2d mentions an attempted suicide: Maggie Foster, a dilapidated demirep, living at No. 93 North Front street, attempted suicide yesterday morning by swallowing an ounce of laudanum. There was a man in the case. She will recover.

ARKANSAS.

—The Fort Smith Herald of June 27th says: We understand that two men, one a white man and the other a negro, who were engaged in cleaning out a well, about eighteen miles south of this place, on Monday last, lost their lives by inhaling foul air. The white man, it seems, went down first, and not returning, the negro in turn went down, and both were stifled to death. It is strange, after the hundreds of warnings that have been given in regard to this very thing, that men will still continue to jeopardize their lives. There are many expedients that might be resorted to, to expel the foul air from wells. We do not pretend to know what is best, but a lighted taper, or what is better still, a shovel full or two of fire, with a little kindling, will serve to purify and drive out the foul air. One thing is certain, if a lighted taper refuses to burn in a well, it is a sure indication of foul air, and no one should venture down without first having used some means to expel it. The well was on the farm of Mr. Abel Warren, of this place, which is near Moor's Rock, on the river. The white man's name was Burlingame, lately from Texas.

—The Fort Smith Herald of June 27th gives the following account of murders in the Cherokee Nations: On Monday evening last, about sun down, three half-blood Cherokees, by the names of Daniel Ross, Zeke Lattimore and Clark Coleman, rode up to the house of John Little, a white man, son-in-law to Jackson King, in a threatening manner; Little went to the door with a double-barreled shot gun and immediately fired both barrels into the body of Lattimore, who fell dead on the spot. Coleman then fired from the back door of the house with a revolver, shooting Little in the back of the head, killing him instantly. This affair took place across the river, about one and a half miles from this place. An old quarrel existed between Little, and Ross and Lattimore, who are half brothers. Whisky, no doubt, was at the bottom of the matter.

LAGRANGE FEMALE COLLEGE

Examination and Commencement Week.

Interesting Ceremonies.

LAGRANGE, TENN., June 30, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Having sent you a report of the examination and exhibition exercises at the "LaGrange High School for Boys and Young Men," under the charge of Messrs. Milliken and Scott, which came off on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, I have thought that a brief and condensed account of the commencement exercises of the LaGrange Female College would not be inappropriate, or unacceptable to your columns. This College is under the supervision of the Rev. J. D. Meredith, assisted by Mrs. Meredith, Mrs. Dew, the Misses Sloane, Viser and others, presenting an able and faithful corps of teachers.

The first day (Friday) of the examination at the Female College was devoted to recitations, compositions and musical performances of the Preparatory, Sophomore and Junior classes, which were diversified and crowned at 11 o'clock, a.m., by an address on "The Moral and Intellectual Progress of Modern Times," by the Rev. J. W. Knott, of Memphis, who, for over an hour, held the audience spellbound by his eloquence.

The second day, (Saturday) was devoted to the examination alternately of the Junior and Senior classes, and in the afternoon exclusively to the examination, compositions and commencement exercises of the Senior or Graduating class, relieved or rather sandwiched by appropriate speeches from Rev. F. P. Mullaly, of Bolivar, Rev. Prof. Johnson, of Macon Masonic College, and Maj. L. S. Marye, of Memphis, (late of Fredericksburg, and of "Lee's Immortals," Virginia.) Mr. Mullaly, at 11 a.m., delivered a striking an original oration on "Female Education." Mr. Johnson gave us an off-hand address on the Educator's profession generally, which proved him a man of experience and an accomplished teacher—a profession of which he is justly proud. Maj. Marye's address to the graduating class was tasteful and full of that wise advice which experience of the world alone can give.

The exercises of the second and last day were wound up by the presentation of diplomas, the valedictory address to the graduates, by Miss Williams, of Saulsbury, Tenn., and the Baccalaureate address, in Latin, by the President, Rev. J. D. Meredith. Miss Williams' valedictory left almost the entire audience in tears, and the Baccalaureate was rendered with great earnestness and appropriateness.

Throughout the exercises both days, the recitations and compositions of the young ladies were agreeably interspersed with well selected and admirably performed pieces of music by the fair students, who were occasionally accompanied and assisted by the magic violin of Prof. Baldwin, of New Orleans. Each day, that numerous assemblage of the friends of the institution and the public at large, were bountifully entertained, without money and without price, at a splendid barbecue-dinner, spread in the beautiful grove in front of the College.

The crowd, which was very large on the first day, was swollen much on the second by fresh arrivals every hour, and by 11 o'clock a.m. the bone and sinew, youth and beauty of the surrounding region had gathered there. "Every mountain had sent its rill, every valley its stream, and lo! an avalanche of people, of fair women and brave men, was here!" Never before were there half so many beautiful women seen in our little town, long famed for its beauty; never before was a single week crowded with so many sensations of pride and pleasure.

All the classes, from the highest to the lowest, acquitted themselves with credit both to themselves and to their teachers, individually and collectively.

The following is a list of the graduating class of 1868: Bettie M. Hunt, of Tippah county, Miss., who carried off the first honor; Miss Mary F. Ayres, of Mississippi, and Miss Sallie A. Jones, of Tennessee, who divided between them the second honor; and Miss Maria De Smith, of Lamar, Miss., Miss M. Thomasia Worsham, of Marshall county, Miss., Miss Jennie P. Viser, of Oxford, Miss., and Miss Sallie E. Williams, of Saulsbury, Hardeman county, Tenn., who, being elected by her classmates, acted as Valedictorian. P.

ARKANSAS.

—The following items are taken from the Little Rock Gazette of July 1st: We learn from Mr. J. B. Shaw, of Fort Smith, that the counties of Sebastian and Crawford have had constant showers, and that corn and cotton were prospering—corn being in young roasting ear and the cotton two feet high. Western Arkansas has proved the Egypt of the State for the past year, and bids fair to again supply us with grain.

—The heated spell that has for a month or more hung over and parched the earth was yesterday and the previous day, relieved by copious rains which must enhance the growth of crops very materially through this and the adjoining counties. We were fearful, in fact, of a drought that would ruin the year's crop, but indications now lead to the belief that the danger is past.

—We learn that Mr. D. J. Desmoine, business manager of the Theater, and Mr. Hinds, a recent actor on the Little Rock stage, got into an altercation Monday night, near the Anthony House, which resulted in Mr. H. getting considerably bruised and Mr. D. getting into the calaboose, from which, however, he was shortly released upon a writ of habeas corpus. This was a little "side show," without the pale of legitimate acting.

ALABAMA.

—In Mobile, on the 29th ult., John Ledebur, manager of the Gayeties theater, committed suicide by taking strychnia. Financial embarrassments and business troubles was the cause of the act.

—The Governor of Alabama has issued a proclamation in which he offers $400 reward for the arrest of Mich. Ferrell, the murderer of Seaborn Jones.

—A Montgomery paper says that the office of registration of voters was to have been closed on last Tuesday, the 2d inst., and the books and records turned over to the military authorities.

—Last week Col. Dawson shipped sixty bushels of peaches from his orchard in Dallas county, Ala., to Chicago.

—The jail of Shelby county, Ala., was destroyed by fire on the 17th of June. It originated in the building, up stairs, and was the work of an incendiary. There were two prisoners in the building, one of whom made his escape.

—The Carrollton West Alabamian says that the weather is cool and dry—no rain for nearly three weeks. With seasonable showers, planters in this section will make beautiful crops of corn. Cotton is looking fine, and farmers have cheerful faces—when they see a cloud rising.

Gen. Grant and the Hebrews.

The Meadville (Penn) Hebrew Society, at a regular meeting on the first of March, after electing officers, passed the following resolution, which was ordered published in the Cincinnati Israelite:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Meadville Hebrew Society, fully indorse and approve of the editorial in the Israelite of February 28th, "concerning the infamous order No. 11, of Gen. Grant, while in command of the Department of Tennessee," and that we pledge ourselves not to vote for Gen. Grant as President of the United States, should he secure the nomination of either party, and we will use all honorable means to defeat him for that high and distinguished office.

Mr. JOHN A. D. BRANCH was bitten by a rattlesnake, near Tampa, about a week since. An application of beef's gall to the wound saved his life.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Night Dispatches.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, July 3.—A communication in the Press and Times, the official organ, this morning, recommends an extra session of the Legislature to stop the issuance of new bonds and all other efforts to raise funds except by ordinary taxation, and to apply these funds to the State Government and appropriate receipts from the railroads to the use of the common schools. The proposition is received with favor. Gov. Brownlow says a conspiracy exists in New York among the stock-jobbers and swindlers, and if the Legislature will take his advice they will withdraw the State patronage from that city.

Mrs. President Johnson and Mrs. Stoner and family have arrived at Greenville to spend the summer.

A young man named Crenshaw blew his brains out yesterday, at Athens, with a pistol.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, July 3.—Yesterday Gen. Buchanan sent Capt. DeRussey, of his staff, and inducted the lately elected Street Commissioner and Recorder of the Third District into office, the former incumbents having refused to recognize the validity of the General's order.

Collector Whaley, of Brownsville, Texas, has forwarded a document to the Agent of the Associated Press here, signed by the Mayor, Postmaster and Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue at Brownsville, and Maj.-Gen. McCook, commanding the sub-District of the Rio Grande, certifying that the statements of fraud and disorder in the Brownsville Customhouse, telegraphed from Galveston on June the 19th, and furnished by a correspondent of the New York Herald was entirely false, and the pretended correspondent a swindler.

The Brownsville Courier of June 20th says the Mexican news reported by the same pretender, was fabricated.

In the House to-day a joint resolution offered by Noble, a Democrat, to appropriate $2500 for the celebration of the 4th of July, was objected to on account of the shortness of the time, and tabled.

On the motion of a Radical, by a strict party vote of 54 to 20, the House refused to adjourn over until after the 4th.

In the Senate Braughn, a Democrat, moved for a suspension of the rules, and for a third reading of the 14th amendment, as its final adoption was a foregone conclusion. The motion was tabled.

Several bills were introduced, viz: For placing the Central Police in the hands of the Governor, containing Gen. Hancock's order for the payment of the State dues in greenbacks, and ordering the Governor to enforce the provisions of article 99 of the State Constitution and the 14th amendment.

Jewell (Democrat) protested against the proceedings of the Radicals for the first two days.

There was considerable objection to the reception of the protest, but it was finally received and spread upon the minutes.

The Senate then adjourned until Monday, the vote being 17 to 15—those opposing the adjournment being Radicals.

The military and a strong police force were on duty again to day, but the city was perfectly quiet.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The House Whisky, Tobacco and Banking bill, was to-day reported from the Senate's Committee on Finance, with numerous amendments. The sections relating to banks and bankers are stricken out. No changes are proposed in the taxes on whisky and tobacco. The time for taking spirits from bonded warehouses is extended from six to twelve months.

The House provision for the exportation of alcohol and rum is stricken out, and a new section substituted, requiring the "drawback" at the time of the shipment, and after clearance the bond is to be retained until it is shown that the alcohol or rum has actually arrived at the place of destination, the certificate of the Consul being required for that purpose.

The license tax on wholesale and retail dealers is stricken out, thus leaving in force the existing law. Tobacco cannot be removed from the place of manufacture until the taxes are paid. It is also provided that it shall be removed at once from the export warehouse, to which it is first sent, according to the House bill. Tobacco may be sent from the manufacturers to an export warehouse, only to be exported, but the Senate's amendment provides that if the manufacturer does not choose to export he can withdraw it for a home market. Another amendment changes the number of inspectors to twenty, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is to designate their territorial districts. The House bill provides for sixty inspectors, or one for each judicial district.

The Senate's amendment provides for the appointment of fifty special agents, to be employed during the pleasure of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

PROCLAMATION.

By the President of the United States—A Proclamation.

WHEREAS, In the month of July, 1861, in accepting the condition of civil war, which was brought about by an insurrection and rebellion in several of the States which constitute the United States, the two Houses of Congress did solemnly declare that the war was not waged on the part of the Government in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but only to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as those objects should be accomplished, the war on the part of the Government should cease;

And whereas, the President of the United States has heretofore in the spirit of that declaration, and with the view of securing for it the ultimate and complete effect as set forth in the several proclamations, offering amnesty and pardon to persons who had been, or were concerned in the aforenamed rebellion, which proclamations, however, were attended with prudential reservations and exceptions then deemed necessary and proper, and which proclamations were respectively issued on the 8th day of December, 1863, on the 26th day of March, 1864, on the 29th day of May, 1865, and on the 7th day of September, 1867;

And whereas, the said lamentable civil war has long since altogether ceased, with an acknowledgment by the States, of the supremacy of the Federal Constitution and of the Government thereunder, and there no longer exists any reason or ground to apprehend a renewal of the said civil war, or any foreign interference, or any unlawful resistance, by any portion of the people of any of the States, to the Constitution and laws of the United States;

And whereas, it is desirable to reduce the standing army, and to bring to a speedy termination the military occupation—martial law, military tribunals, the abridgment of the freedom of speech and of the press, the suspension of the privilege of habeas corpus and the right of trial by jury—such encroachments upon our free institutions in times of peace being dangerous to public liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizen, contrary to the genius and spirit of our republican form of government, and exhaustion of the national resources;

And whereas, it is believed that amnesty and pardon will tend to secure a complete and universal establishment and prevalence of municipal law and order, in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, and to remove all appearances and presumptions of a retaliatory or vindictive policy on the part of the Government, attended by unnecessary disqualifications, pains, penalties, confiscations and disfranchisements, and on the contrary, to promote and preserve complete fraternal reconciliation among the whole people, with due submission to the Constitution and laws,

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do, by virtue of the Constitution and in the name of the people of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare, unconditionally and without reservation, to all and to every person, who directly or indirectly participated in the late insurrection or rebellion, (excepting such persons who may be under presentment or indictment in any court of the United States having competent jurisdiction, upon a charge of treason or other felony), a full pardon and amnesty for the offense of treason against the United States, or of adhering to other enemies during the late civil war, with a restoration of all their rights of property, except as to slaves, and except, also, as to any property of which any person may have been legally divested under the laws of the United States. In testimony whereof I have signed these presents with my hand, and have caused the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed. Done at the City of Washington, the fourth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-third.

By the President:
(Signed) ANDREW JOHNSON.
WILLIAM H SEWARD, Secretary of State.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 3.—The excitement is increasing hourly. Pendleton's friends are loud in their expressions of confidence in his nomination, claiming that he is the only candidate that can be elected. They oppose Hendricks, and some say will bolt from Chase. Seymour is their second choice, and it is believed that they will control over 140 votes.

Wash McLeon and Judge Flynn, of Cincinnati, had a private interview with Seymour, Tilden and Church of New York to-day, and stated that Pendleton would not be pressed to a split.

It is very likely that Seymour will be nominated by acclamation before six ballots are taken, and forced to accept the nomination.

A letter from the New York bankers urges him to accept.

Many Southern delegates favor Johnson, but will support the candidate, and promise to vote and work in the election.

Hendricks' friends continue confident, but say that should Seymour be nominated, then Hendricks or Blair will be nominated for the Vice-Presidency.

To-day Hancock seems to be nowhere.

A number of the State delegations to the Democratic Convention held meetings to-day. The Connecticut delegation chose W. W. Eaton as Chairman. Nine of the delegates are for English and three for Pendleton. The Ohio delegation held an election and chose the following as representatives in the Convention: On the Committee on Credentials, Wayne Griswold; on rules, W. J. Gilmore; as Vice-President, Edson B. Olds, and as member of the National Executive Committee, John G. Thompson.

The Illinois delegation chose William A. Richardson as Chairman, and selected W. J. Allen to serve on the Committee on Rules; M. S. Morrison on the Committee on Permanent Organization; Thomas Hoyton the Committee on Credentials; D. M. Woodson as Vice-President; N. J. Dowdell as Secretary, and Wilbur F. Storey on the National Executive Committee.

The Kansas delegation held a meeting, with Gen. C. W. Blair in the chair, and appointed representatives on the committees.

The Arkansas delegation held a meeting and elected A. H. Garland chairman, and made the following recommendations: For Vice-President, B. D. Turner; for Committee on Platforms, A. H. Garland; on Credentials, E. C. Boudinot; on Permanent Organization, J. S. Durham, and as Secretary, John W. Wright.

The South Carolina delegation held a meeting, but postponed any action until all the delegates are here.

The Maryland delegation made the following selections: R. B. Carmichael, Chairman; O. H. Orsey, Secretary; Fred. Maddox, on the Committee on Credentials; A. K Syivester, on Organization, and Stevenson Askew, on Resolutions.

The New York delegation transacted no business to-day, except the substitution of S. S. Cox for Michael Morton, from the Fourth District.

The Tennessee delegates are all here, and will vote for Andrew Johnson, but will accept the man the Northern States think the most of.

The Delaware delegation favor Pendleton, except Senator Bayard, who is for Hancock.

The New Jersey delegation will vote for ex-Gov. Joel Parker.

CONGRESSIONAL.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Paine, for Boutwell, reported from the Reconstruction Committee a bill removing certain disabilities from various parties, which was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The House then went into a Committee of the Whole on the Senate's amendments to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

The Senate's amendment repealing all laws authorizing the publication of actual proceedings and debates was concurred in; also Senate's amendment to pay for only such advertisements in the Washington papers as may be ordered by the heads of departments, with a proviso that the Government advertisements shall be published only in the three papers authorized by law.

An amendment was adopted instructing the Superintendent of Public Buildings to remove all statuary, paintings, etc., now in the Capitol.

The deficiency bill was then considered, and both bills went over until Monday.

Butler made a report from the managers, which was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

The bill providing for the issue of arms to the militia in the reconstructed States, was passed.

A message from the President relative to the practice of the Danish authorities of Elsinore in sending convicts to the United States, was read and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill to encourage emigration was ordered to be printed.

A bill repealing section 5th of the act of 1792, concerning the registering and recording of vessels, was passed, and the House adjourned until Monday.

SENATE.

Sherman reported the Tax bill and amendments, which was ordered to be printed.

An order was adopted that the Tax bill and Funding bill should be made the special order at one o'clock Monday, and continue as such until disposed of.

The joint resolution excluding certain States from voting in the electoral college, was laid aside, and Edmonds said he would not call it up again.

The District of Columbia bill was then considered.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The members of the Merchants' Board of Trade at Norfolk have held special meetings to appoint delegates to a meeting at Bristol, Tenn., to take place July 15, 1868. They have appointed fifty delegates from among the merchants and business men of Norfolk, and it is expected that Richmond, Petersburg and Lynchburg will do the same, to confer then and there as to the most effective manner to further develop the resources of Virginia and Tennessee, to induce capital and immigration to our midst, and to organize a Virginia and Tennessee Steamship Company from Norfolk, Va., to Liverpool, England. All who feel an interest in this object are cordially invited to attend. Also any or all of the merchants from Chattanooga and intermediate points between there and Bristol, and Nashville and Memphis.

—J. C. Ray, formerly a citizen of Nashville, committed suicide at the St. Charles Hotel in that city, on Monday night, evidently from sheer despair of securing the employment necessary to earn for himself and family a livelihood. It seems that he was out of business, out of money and although not without friends who would willingly have rendered him assistance, was too proud to speak of his condition or ask a favor. At one time he was a merchant tailor, or cutter, in Little Rock, Ark.

—The following advertisement appears in the Chicago Post: Wanted—In a respectable colored family, a white woman to do general housework. Apply at No. 73 Carroll street. No Irish need apply. I. JORDAN.

—The exiles in Siberia, according to the report of the President of the Administrative Council of that country, are estimated to reach twelve thousand a year. During the last few years the average has risen to fourteen thousand, of whom more than a sixth are women and children. Quite recently the journey was performed on foot. A fifth of the exiles die on the way or in the hospitals. That mortality is explained by the fatigue of traveling, apart from all other circumstances. The mean distance is about two thousand miles, which represents about two hundred and eighty days' walking. The time necessary to reach the more distant government, is one year two months and a half.

—Mrs. Mary Lawler, a young and attractive married lady, committed suicide by drowning herself at St. Louis on Tuesday. An unmarried cousin visited her house occasionally and, Mr. Lawler, who is a hard working mechanic, occasionally saw the young lady to her home. Mrs. Lawler got jealous and tired of life, so she jumped into a cistern and put an end to her supposed troubles.

—Col. Fenn, Chief of Police of St. Louis, has been removed.

—The artesian well at the Insane Asylum grounds, St. Louis, now in its twenty-sixth month of boring, has reached a depth of 3147½ feet, but no water has appeared fit to drink. This is the deepest well in the world.

—Eminent Berlin physicians, it is said, concur in the opinion that both Bismark and King William will die very soon and very suddenly.

—A correspondent writing from Omaha says: In the last week there have been sixteen failures with business houses, and before the next sixty days roll around they will double that amount. Our streets look as if the place was being deserted. Omaha can never get up the same excitement she did this spring. In my opinion she is dead for years to come, and if the truth was told by all they would coincide with me. Two months ago there was not a store to be rented in the place. To-day there are sixty-one stores for rent.

FRIAR'S POINT, MISS., June 26, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

The election in Coahoma county has gone Radical 850, Democratic 142. All the Radical votes, excepting about 20, were negroes. HARRIE.

THE National Intelligencer shows that if the Radical interpretation of the rule of succession of the Presidency be strictly enforced, every member of the Senate will have a chance to enjoy that position before the next inauguration.

THE following lines on the failure in business of a man named Homer are old but good:

That Homer should a bankrupt be,
Is not so very odd d'ye see,
If it be true as I'm instructed,
So ill he had his books conducted.

A SHIP from Port Glasgow was recently lying in the harbor at New Orleans, when an Irish emigrant one day came on board, and thus addressed the cook, who was also Irish, "Are you the mate?" "No," said he, "but I'm the man as boils the mate."

THE "Dead Duck," in a letter from Chicago to the Philadelphia Press, says that the Radical party, five hundred thousand strong, composed of the black Union Leagues of the South and the white Loyalists of the North, are armed cap-a-pie, and are ready with the ballot or bayonet to carry the election this fall.

ONE James M. Grant, of Bridgeport, Conn., recently obtained a divorce from his wife Julia, who the next day informed the public, through the columns of a local paper, that she was not aware that a suit for divorce had been commenced until she saw the decree made public. But when, a few days later, she received intelligence that a deceased relative in England had left her eighty thousand dollars, she probably was content to let matters remain as they were.

DIED.

SMITH—At the Commercial Hotel, Memphis, at 2½ o'clock a.m., July 3, 1868, Mr. C. W. SMITH, of consumption, in the 29th year of his age.

The deceased was in the employ of the Milwaukee and Minneapolis Railroad, and was formerly an employee of the Adams Express Company. His body was deposited in Calvary Cemetery yesterday evening, at 5 o'clock.

FRIAR'S POINT, MISS., June 10, 1868.

Messrs. MANSFIELD & HIGBEE,

Druggists, Memphis, Tennessee:

GENTLEMEN: You ask me for my statement relative to the cure for Fever by Iodine as CHARBONE IN HORSES and MULES, which you style

"MAGIC ARNICA LINIMENT."

I have used your Liniment in about two dozen cases with perfect success. I had lost all hope of a remedy, but believe your discovery WILL REMEDY. I have not failed in a single case in which I have applied your Liniment. I believe it a valuable discovery. Think every planter should provide himself with the Magic Arnica Liniment. No planter should be without your remedy where this terrible disease prevails. I have supplied each of my plantations. My supervisors report favorable upon every trial.

Very respectfully, yours, etc.,
J. L. ALCORN.

Price $1 per bottle; $8 per dozen.

Be brief, concise and to the point, avoid the "flowers of rhetoric," and confine yourself to a plain statement of facts. Write on but one side of the paper in a clear hand, and with pen and ink, giving your words and sentences plenty of room. In all cases the real name and address of the writer must accompany the manuscript. Articles which redound to personal or individual benefit, or are of a personal nature, will only be inserted as "advertisements" or "paid cards."

FOURTH DAY—Saturday.—Sun rises 5:02; sets 7:53.

Saints.—St. Ulric, of Augsberg, 973; St. Odo, Archbishop of Canterbury, 10th century.

Born.—Christian Gellert, celebrated German poet and fable writer, 1715, Chemnitz.

Died.—Lords Saye and Seal, beheaded 1450, London; Fisher Ames, scholar and statesman, President of Harvard College, 1804, Boston; John Adams, second President of the United States, 1826; Thomas Jefferson, third President United States, 1825.

THERE was a rumor current last night, but we could trace it to no authentic source, that a girl, or young lady, had been drowned by falling off the ferry-boat yesterday evening.

WE LEARN that there was a shooting affair in or near the Court Recess saloon about midnight, but owing to the lateness of the hour were unable to learn any particulars.

A WONDERFUL LINIMENT.—We call the attention of our readers, more especially those who have the care of animals or own valuable stock, to the advertisement of Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee's Magic Arnica Liniment. It is said to be infallible in cases of erysipelas or charbonne in horses and mules. Try it.

THE BENEFIT of Miss Halstead was a failure in point of the number of those who were present to witness the performance. We understand, however, that the play was most admirably rendered, Miss Halstead's "Naramattah" being especially fine, as was also Mr. Partello as "Gough."

ST. JOHN'S METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—Quarterly meeting services will be held to-morrow, in the Law Courtroom, Greenlaw Building, as follows: Love Feast at 10 a.m., preaching at 11 a.m. by the Presiding Elder, Rev. W. H. Pearne, followed by the administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The public are invited.

ACCORDING to an Alabama Radical paper, the negro Conventionists quit "Conventioning" in good spirits, and "struck by de power," commenced singing that good old nigger camp-meeting tune, "We're gwine to Hebin a reelin' an' a rockin', halleloo!" According to all accounts that is about the way Grant generally goes to bed.

A LITTLE WAIF.—Capt. Simons of the First District, found a little boy, apparently six or seven years old, asleep in a doorway on Main street, near Washington, last night about 10 o'clock. He was guarded in his slumbers by a faithful dog that was ready to tear the Captain up, when he attempted to wake him. The little recruit for the mackerel brigade was taken to the station, along with his dog, as the Captain said, "to make pets of."

THE NEW FIFTEEN CENT NOTE.—We were shown yesterday one of these new fractional currency notes, which have just been turned out by the printing division of the Treasury. It is of the same width but somewhat shorter than the twenty-five cent note. On the right side of the face is an excellent vignette of Gen. Grant, and on the left a vignette of Gen. Sherman; between the vignettes are the words "Fifteen Cents," prominently displayed, and immediately beneath the figures "15." The back is similar in appearance to that of the twenty-five cent note, with the denomination on each end.

SAD ACCIDENT.—James Ryan, a lad of some twelve or thirteen years of age, the son of Mr. James Ryan, formerly Market Master of the South Memphis market, was drowned while bathing in Wolf river, opposite the first saw mill, yesterday morning about half past nine o'clock. He and his brother had been in swimming together, and his brother becoming tired came out and left him in the water, among some logs, mounting one of which he dived off from it, and never rose to the surface. The alarm was soon given, and though every exertion was used, up to twelve o'clock yesterday the body had not been found.

NOTICE.—From and after this date no goods will be sold except for cash. This rule will be strictly adhered to.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY.

Fatal Shooting Affair on Adams Street.

Deputy Constable Jericho Killed by Deputy Constable Henry Schroeder.

Yesterday evening about six o'clock, Henry Schroeder, a well-known German, who has been for some time past connected in various capacities with the Justices' Courts, and, of late, a sort of factotum for John Bullock, Esq., the attorney, shot and killed William Jericho, a Deputy Constable, also well known to the public, and who has often figured in our police reports. The scene of the tragedy was a small beer house and barroom, No. 39 Adams street, known as the "Tunnel," and kept by Mr. Stortz. The circumstances were, as nearly as we could glean them from various sources, as follows:

A day or two ago, a Mrs. Greiss, sued out a warrant before 'Squire Kiernan, against her husband for cruelly maltreating her, and leaving her without the means of support. Schroeder was present at the trial, and as Mrs. G. could speak no English, acted as an interpreter in the case, and from the pathetic nature of her story, took a deep interest in her. Among other brutal acts, her husband had taken away her bed and bedding, and she, under instructions, got out a writ of replevin for it, Schroeder going her bond to the necessary amount so to do, some $15. Jericho, who is an intimate friend of Greiss', at his instigation, went before 'Squire Millard, and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Schroeder on the charge of perjury, made on the grounds that he was not worth the sum for which he had gone Mrs. Greiss' security.

The case was set for 4 o'clock yesterday evening, before 'Squire Millard, and Jericho was on hand a little before the time, but seeing the interest that several parties took in the affair, and having already satisfied himself that he could make nothing out of it, as soon as he saw Schroeder approaching the 'Squire's office, in company with Bullock, his attorney, he left, and when the case was called, was not present to prosecute it. 'Squire Millard very promptly dismissed Schroeder, who after remaining a few moments around the office, left, and walked up Second street over to Adams, in which direction Jericho had also gone some minutes previous. He went first to 'Squire Kiernan's office and thence over to the Tunnel saloon, which is directly opposite, and called for a glass of beer, which he drank standing at the counter near the door. Just as he emptied his glass and set it down on the counter, Jericho came in, passed by him, and walked down to the other end of the counter, some ten feet beyond him. Schroeder addressed some remark to him in German, and as Jericho replied, drew a repeater and fired at him, the ball taking effect in his right side and felling him to the floor. The report of the pistol instantly gathered a crowd, foremost among whom was officer Jim Holland, who took Schroeder immediately into custody, and carried him to the Adams street station, where he was locked up. Meanwhile the wounded man Jericho was laid on the floor of the saloon in a comfortable position, and a surgeon sent for. We are told, but will not answer for the truth of the report, that several were asked before one could be got to come, all excusing themselves on the plea that they did not want to be "dragged into courts and trials as witnesses." We hope for the honor and dignity of the profession that it is not true—or if it is, that the names of those who were guilty of it may be made known. Be that as it may, however, when the surgeon arrived he found the wounded man past the aid of all earthly doctors. The ball had done its work of death but too surely—having entered on the right side in the region of the liver and ranged through the bowels. We saw Dr. Watkins, the surgeon, send his probe fully six inches into the wound, without apparently reaching the ball.

An immense crowd had gathered in the street, completely blocking up the doors and entrance to the saloon, rendering the exertions of a number of policemen necessary to maintain order and keep them from forcing their way into the saloon, so great was the curiosity and anxiety to know something of the circumstances, or see the wounded man. Capt. Simonds, of the First District Police, who was present, suggested that he be removed to his home, and made arrangements to that effect, but by the time that the conveyance was sent for, it was apparent that the minutes, nay, the seconds, of the sufferer were numbered, and that he would die before he could possibly reach his dwelling, so he was left to die where he first was laid. He lingered in apparently great agony for about thirty-five minutes from the time he was shot, and then almost imperceptibly passed away. He recognized and spoke to several persons after he was shot, among whom was this reporter, saying, as we stooped down to look at the wound, "ich bin geschossen," "I am shot." His wife had been sent for, but owing to the distance of his dwelling, (corner of Beal and Causey,) he was dead before she could arrive.

As soon as breath left the body, Coroner Samuelson was sent for, and on his arrival a jury was empanneled, who after hearing the testimony in the case (such as could be obtained), returned a verdict, "Died from a wound from a pistol in the hands of Henry Schroeder." No post mortem examination was made, it not being considered necessary, although Dr. Gruner, the physician of the county hospital, was present.

Jericho was about thirty-eight years old, and a native of Kur Hessen, in Germany. He had been in this country for fifteen years, nine of which were spent in Memphis. He was a man of good natural capacities and fine education, but of not the slightest moral character. He leaves a wife and an infant only eight months old, in utter destitution—knowing which fact the Coroner very properly gave a sexton immediate orders to attend to the burial of his corpse.

As soon as it was known that he was dead, a warrant was issued for Schroeder by 'Squire Kiernan, and he was removed from Adams street station out to the county jail. The case will be examined on Monday, when other facts will no doubt be elicited.

THE COURTS.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor—Stands adjourned until Tuesday next, at which time an adjournment to Court in course will probably take place. The following orders and decrees have been handed to the Clerk for entry on the minutes since the adjournment on Tuesday last: Brick vs. Williams, incompetency waived; Ragan vs. Ragan, final decree; Wicks vs. Leftwich, sale order; Planters Bank vs. Merrill, sale order; Kennedy vs. Baskerville, decree for partition; Eads vs. Whitesides, decree for sale; Polk vs. Armour, commissioners appointed; Mercer vs. Bolton, reference to Clerk and Master; Andrews vs. Clark, order of sale.

LAW COURT—James O. Pierce, Judge. Stands adjourned until Monday next, July 6, 1868.

On yesterday, on the call of the new cases appealed to the present term of court, sixty judgments were taken.

An unusually large number of members of the bar were present in court on yesterday. Col. Ayers and several others advocated an adjournment to the next term of court on account of the hot season and for other reasons. This being resisted by many members, no determination was arrived at as to the proposed adjournment. It is more than probable the matter will again be brought up on next Monday. The regular trial of cases will commence on that day. The cases set on the regular calendar for that day are:

40 Wylie vs Fowlks.
216 Kelley vs Herron, ex'r.
382 Goodell vs Owen.
387 Chandler vs Pope.
396 Miller et al vs Mulvey.
417 Boro & Co. vs Saint.

All jurors heretofore summoned must be in attendance at 9 o'clock a.m. on Monday next.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge—Adjourned on yesterday over to Monday next, July 6, 1868. On that day an investigation will be had in the habeas corpus case of the State vs. Joseph Maxwell, charged with the murder of John Hicks, sr., in Tipton county. Messrs. Maclin, Yerger & Sale, Shelton & Rogers, represent the petitioner. Attorney General Thorn prosecutes in behalf of the State. A calendar of cases set for trial during the next week will be published on Tuesday morning next.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge—Meets on Monday next pursuant to adjournment. The cases set for trial on Monday are as follows:

1654 to 1662 The State vs Van Brocklin, unlawful gaming.
1153 The State vs Loague, speculating in County Warrants.
1756 The State vs Rocco, keeping gaming houses.
1751 The State vs Brizalaro, assault and battery.

SHELBY CIRCUIT COURT—George W. Reeves, Judge.—Meets to-day for the purpose of signing the minutes. On Monday morning an adjournment will be had to Court in course, the 4th Monday in September, 1868. Motions for new trials were heard on yesterday, and bills of exceptions were signed. The following divorces were granted on yesterday: Rebecca H. Hicks vs. J. W. Hicks; James Connell vs. Marla Connell—divorce granted to plaintiff; Angelo Panesi vs. Elizabeth Panesi—divorce granted to plaintiff. Judge Reeves will hold Court on Monday morning preparatory to a final adjournment.

In consequence of the adjournment of all the Courts until Monday, there will be no legal reports published until Tuesday next.

POLICE ITEMS.

—Henry Schroeder, who was arrested by Officer Jim Holland for killing William Jericho, was removed from the First District station to the county jail, on a warrant issued by 'Squire Kiernan.

—'Squire Griffith issued peace warrants for Maria Stone, Jane Dills, and Mrs. C. A. Smith, on complaint of Martha Bonner, who "swore her life agin 'em." The case was continued until Monday.

—J. M. Miller was arrested and carried before 'Squire Griffith, on complaint of Theobold Johns, who swore that Miller had threatened to kill him. The case was continued till Monday.

—Ed. Lucas was accused by Jim Smith of "assaulting and battering" him. Justice Black will settle their difficulties on Monday.

—Justice Black bound Martha Dunlap over in the sum of five hundred dollars to keep the peace towards Minnia Brown. The gentle "Martha" immediately thereupon made complaint to the Justice that Minnia Brown, Maria Davis and Fannie Williams, had most foully and abominably perjured themselves. All this was grist to the 'Squire's mill, and they will have a chance to prove they did not on Monday.

—Henry and Mary Washington are a loving colored couple. They had, however, a day or two ago, a slight family jar—in fact, a jar of walnut catchup, for Henry caught up a walnut table-leg and gave Mary a little lamb-ing, the effects of which will be sure to go with Mary for some time to come. Mary had Henry arrested and carried before 'Squire Griffith, who, to keep Henry from playing "old Harry" promiscuously, again, bound him over in the sum of $1000 to keep the peace, in default of which he went up.

—There were six arrests up to midnight, in the First District, and four in the Second.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY.

—St. Peter's picnic, for the benefit of the orphans, will come off at James' Park. The affair is under the direct supervision of St. Peter's Church, and will be managed in such a manner as to guarantee a delightful day to all who may go thither. We have already said so much on the subject that we feel that more would be superfluous.

—St. Mary's Church picnic is at the Ford Place, Chelsea. Father Schneider is at the head of this affair, which has for its object the roofing over of St. Mary's Church. An hour or two may be spent with these "picnickers" to some advantage to-day.

—The Chelsea Fish Club make an excursion up Hatchie river.

—There will be tilting at Linde's park at a gold finger ring. This will be quite a test of skill, and unless there is a good deal better tilting done than was at the last tournament the ring will be left hanging there to-night.

—The steamer Des Arc will carry up a large party who will spend the day and have a basket picnic at Mound City. See her advertisement.

—Two races will come off over the Memphis Racing Course, commencing this evening at 4 o'clock. Several entries have already been made.

WICKERSHAM.—We understand that this individual is, in his official capacity, undoubtedly "gone up." P. T. Hughes, whom he gave as one of his bondsmen for $40,000, came into Court yesterday and admitted that he was not worth that amount in real estate, his property being personal, and withdrew his name from the bonds. This fixes Mr. Wickersham's flint effectually. It is generally understood that Mr. Burke, one of his county bondsmen, has withdrawn or will at a very early period withdraw his name also, thus leaving the poor gentleman almost without a backer. He has until Monday, it is true, still to hustle around and hunt for some one fool enough to become responsible for him; but this is a forlorn hope. There are a few of his class among us who will be able to persuade the Court that they possess the requisite property qualifications, and those few know too well how they got their own property, ever to indorse the honesty of one of their own stripe.

Such is ever the fate of "vaulting ambition,"—it "o'erleaps itself and falls on tother side." Had Wickersham been modest, and gone for an office that any carpet-bagger might reasonably aspire to—say, for instance, scavenger, dog-catcher, or, by a flight of fancy, a constable, where bonds are not needed, he might have held the coveted honors, nor endured the "toil and trouble, and salty sweat of brow," that the past few days have cost him—not to speak of the griefs and pangs, the tantalian tortures of seeing "such a bully chance" to fill his carpet-bag and make his pile, slip through his fingers and vanish into thin air.

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—River stationary. Upper Mississippi getting very low.

MEMPHIS, July 4.

Weather was very hot yesterday, and no improvement in business. It was considered the hottest day of the season. A light shower occurred late in the afternoon and refreshed the parched earth, but was not of sufficient force to be of much benefit to the crops. The Mississippi is falling slowly its entire length, but is still at good boating stage to St. Louis, though above that point it is getting low and troublesome. It fell only an inch here yesterday. Ohio river is low and falling steadily, with less than four and a half feet in Portland canal and on Rising Sun bar. Cumberland river is falling, with eighteen inches on the shoals. There has been a slight rise in the Upper Arkansas, but thirty inches is about the depth below Little Rock. White river is falling slowly, with six feet below Augusta, and not yet cutting out. St. Francis river is still at fair stage to Witteburg.

She will leave here on her first trip to Mound City and Island No. 40 at 7 p.m., and on the last trip at 3 p.m. A fine band of music will be on board for dancing purposes. The boat will be in charge of Capt. John D. Elliott.

Capt. John B. Davis was in Cincinnati as late as Thursday evening, prospecting.

The Kellogg and barges, with 7500 tons of freight, passed down yesterday from St. Louis to New Orleans.

The Luminary, Capt. J. F. Luker, will be down to-day to leave at 5 p.m. for Vicksburg, in place of the Rubicon. J. Lee Finney is purser.

The famous Belle St. Louis, Capt. Alexander Zeigler, is the regular packet for St. Louis to-day, and will leave at 6 p.m. She is A No. 1. Ad Storm holds forth in the office.

The gallant Liberty No. 2, Capt. Jas. Rice, is the regular Saturday mail packet, and will be off at 5 p.m. for all points on White river, making close connection with the railroad for Little Rock and Hot Springs. The genial Milt Harry presides in the office. Through tickets can be had of him, or of Levy & Miller, agents.

The Cora S. is due in port, from below, this morning, and is to leave at 5 p.m. for Cairo and Louisville. Hicks King is master and A. D. Cronxall purser.

The steamer Kate was sunk, on Saturday, about eighteen miles below Vincennes, in the Wabash river. She had just been chartered by Shannon Whitlesey, and was on her first trip under new auspices. She had but little freight aboard. It is thought she can be raised.

The Robert E. Lee goes on the ways at Mound City after the present trip, and will have all the crooks taken out of her.

The Belle Lee has finally laid up at Cairo.

The P. W. Strader and Louisville have been towed to New Albany and laid up. They will be overhauled, repaired and remainted for the fall campaign.

It is reported that Capt. Chas. Shultz, late of the Indiana, proposes to purchase the Gen. Lytle, and place her in the Louisville and New Orleans trade.

There is danger of a cut-off in White river, which will leave Augusta several miles inland.

The Bismarck will be down to-day, bound for New Orleans. Sam Entriken is master.

The Celeste left with some freight and a fair list of passengers, including Rufus Walt, Esq., and family.

Capt. James Tschudi, late of the Memphis Packet Line, now runs the Clifton House in Sioux City, and is entirely restored in health.

The disaster to the Sam. Gaty occurred at the point just above Arrow Rock, and was occasioned by the upsetting of a lamp. The Gaty was a sidewheel steamer, built at Louisville in the spring of 1860, by Capt. John Baldwin, and during her career was always considered a money making boat. At the time of her loss she was owned by Fred Dozier and Ben Johnson, they having bought her from the St. Louis and Peoria Packet Company during the past spring. She was valued at $10,600, and was, doubtless, fully insured.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised ear to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. se6 ddwly

The Greatest Discovery Known to the World in Medicine.

THE

EUREKA LIFE-BLOOD ELIXIR

HAS at last made its way into this country, after having been in use in the old world for so many years, and especially in China. The celebrated alchemist and chemist, Dr. Hepserdam, of Pekin, China, has at last consented to his great CHINESE REMEDY being introduced on this continent, and has established in three wholesale agencies for the purpose of supplying all druggists throughout the United States and our country. This great Blood Medicine has performed cures (the most astonishing), where every other remedy known in Materia Medica has most signally failed.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, July 3.—About 2 o'clock yesterday evening, Thomas E. Carey, an attache of a banking house, entered Mr. A. G. King's bank, 54 William street, for the purpose of receiving $45 000 in coupon bonds of the issue of 1868, and one of the Treasury clerks passed out the bonds to him, and, while they were lying on the counter, Mr. Carey and the gentleman behind the desk entered into a conversation, during which some daring thief came up unnoticed, and, seizing the money, succeeded in making his escape with it.

The Herald's dispatch says it is stated on the authority of a member of Congress that President Johnson has determined to issue a general amnesty proclamation on the 4th inst. Its provisions will include the pardon of Mr. Davis, John C. Breckinridge and other leaders of the rebellion.

BOSTON, July 2.—In the trot between Lucy and Rolla Gold Dust, at River Side Park, mile heats, best three in five under saddle, Lucy won in three straight heats. Time, 2:27¼, 2:25¼ and 2:23¼. The weather was exceedingly hot.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Mazatlan advices, June 22d, state that a serious difficulty is reported between the commander of the British war steamer Chanticleer and the Mexican authorities. The Chanticleer was off Alta, got into a dangerous position, and fired signal guns for assistance. A pilot went out and released the ship from danger, but the Captain refused to pay for the services rendered, and went to Mazatlan. The Collector of the port of Mazatlan noticed one of the officers of the Chanticleer conveying specie aboard to avoid export duty, and had him arrested. On searching him, gold was found on his person. The Captain of the Chanticleer came ashore in great excitement, and declared that his vessel and himself were insulted by the search of his subordinates. Some words followed which ended by the Collector ordering the Captain to be searched under the impression that he, also, was implicated in smuggling.

The captain then went aboard the Chanticleer, and notified the inhabitants, by a proclamation, that he was about to bombard Mazatlan for the insult offered to the English. Numerous notes passed between Commander Bridge, Gen. Corona and the civil authorities.

The latter finally, acting as mediater, ultimately prevailed on Bridge to modify his proclamation so as to place the port of Mazatlan under blockade, so so far as Mexican vessels are concerned; not interfering with American or other foreign vessels until he can receive orders from the Admiral commanding his station.

The action of Gen. Corona and the American authorities is generally approved by the foreign residents.

The United States war steamer Suwannee left Acapulco for Mazatlan to protect American interests.

The United States steamer Resacca was at Port Lopez, June 21st.

Later advices say Commander Bridge demanded the officer who searched his subordinate and seized the money should be sent aboard the Chanticleer, to be dealt with as he saw fit.

Carona replied that sooner than submit to such an outrage he would allow the city to be bombarded, telling him in dignified language that if he had reclamation to make, he would make it in the manner customary with civilized nations, and through the proper channel.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY PPEAL, } MEMPHIS, July 3, 1868. }

This has been a dull day in commercial circles; but business at the banks was rather more animated, from the fact that, as to-morrow (the 4th of July) will be generally observed as a holiday, the business of two days was necessarily crowded into one. The banks continue to report themselves in easy condition, but are very cautious in the matter of discounts, in consequence of which capital remains idle, as there is no other employment for it at present. Exchange is not offered as abundantly as it was a few days ago, which renders necessary moderate shipments of currency in the direction of New York, on which point the ruling checking rate is ⅛c premium. Good bills would pass readily at par to ⅛c premium at the banks.

The weather continues very warm, with occasional "dry showers," which afford temporary relief from the oppressive heat. We have not had, for some weeks, sufficient rain to benefit the crops, and as regards corn, complaints of drouth are more numerous than ever. It is feared the crop will be ruined.

Gold opened in New York at 140¾ and closed at 140¾c. Our market continues dull, with few calls, and receipts a little in excess. Dealers buy at 138 to 139c and sell at 139½ to 140c. Silver is nominally 129 to 130c buying and 131 to 132c selling, for halves and quarters.

City Scrip was dull at 80c in the hands of dealers, who aim to buy at 75c, at which rate there are few if any sellers. A lot of $500 was sold to a dealer at 77c.

County Scrip was dull, dealers buying at 60c and selling at 62½ to 65c.

Police Scrip has generally declined and holders, pressing the market, cannot readily realize higher than 75 to 77c, although brokers' selling rates range from 80 to 85c.

The movement in city and railroad stocks and bonds was very light, and all we learned of was a sale of 42 shares Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock at 56c. The inquiry is good for all descriptions, especially city bonds, of which none appeared on the market, and which are in demand at 55 to 56c. On other securities our quotations are entirely nominal. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage, 50c; 2d do, 32 to 35c. Memphis and Ohio Railroad stock, 10c; 1st mortgage 10s, 30s; 2d do 6s, 20s. Mississippi Central, 1st mortgage, 57 to 58c; 2d do, 40 to 41c. Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock, 55c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds, 42 to 44c; do Navy bonds, 52c.

Our Cotton market was without any change to-day, excepting increased firmness and greater scarcity of the staple. Only one sale worthy of note transpired or was reported—11 bales good style low middling at 29c. There is still a list of 40 bales on the market. It is called middling, but on a full and active market would not class higher than low middling, and is held at 30c.

The Liverpool market was unchanged; sales 8000 bales at yesterday's prices, 11¾d for uplands, and 11¾d for Orleans.

In the New York market there was a fair demand with limited offerings; sales 1500 bales.

The Liverpool statement for the week ending to-day is as follows: Sales, 56,000 bales, of which 7000 were to exporters and 4000 to speculators; stock, 603,000, of which 353,000 are American; stock afloat, 609,000, of which 36,000 are American. Compared with the last weekly statement, this shows a decrease of 7000 in sales to exporters, 5000 less to speculators, or a grand decrease of 12,000 bales; decrease in stock, 4000 bales; decrease in American, 14,000 bales; increase in amount afloat, 70,000 bales; decrease in American afloat, 3000 bales.

M. Hopkins, New Orleans, viz: One dated December 27, 1859, at 12 months after date in favor of himself, the said Thomas Bibb, for $3300 00; and one dated December 5, 1859, in favor of Thomas Bibb, at 12 months after date, for $3600 00; and R. C. Brinkley did draw his accommodation bill on A. M. Hopkins New Orleans, in favor of R. P. Brinkley, dated December 28, 1859, at 12 months after date, for $1967 00; and A. M. Hopkins & Co. did make their note in favor of A. M. Hopkins, dated May 26, 1858, at 10 months after date, for $3487 77, which was indorsed by J. Denniston & Co., on which said A. M. Hopkins did pay the sum of $800 00.

And whereas, in order to secure and save harmless the said John Overton, Thomas Bibb, R. C. Brinkley and A. F. Hopkins, the drawers respectively of the aforesaid accommodation bills, and to secure also the said A. and J. Denniston & Co. on the note aforesaid, the said Arthur M. Hopkins did execute an indenture of Trust, dated the 8th day of February, 1861, by and in which he conveyed to Charles Kortrecht, as trustee, the premises situate in the county of Cook and State of Illinois, known and described as follows: "A certain piece or parcel of land lying and being near the city of Chicago, in the State of Illinois, and consisting of about ten acres, which was conveyed in fee simple by James W. Pryor, of the city of New York, to the said Arthur M. Hopkins, said conveyance being by deed now of record in Cook county, Illinois," which said land is more fully described as blocks three (3) and four (4) of James W. Pryor's subdivision of part of the northeast quarter of section four (4), township thirty-eight (38) north, range fourteen (14) east of the third principal meridian, according to survey and plat of the same, said to be deposited of record in the proper office for the recording of surveys and maps in Cook county, Illinois, said subdivision fronting on Indiana avenue and west of the Chicago and Rock Island Railroad, and said block three (3) and four (4) contain, as the streets bounding on them, ten acres or thereabouts, being the land conveyed to said Arthur M. Hopkins by said James W. Pryor and Katherine M. Pryor, his wife, by their deed dated July 3, 1856, upon Trust; that in case a majority of the beneficiaries in said Indenture of Trust mentioned should direct a sale of said premises, then the said Charles Kortrecht was thereby authorized and instructed to sell said premises, at public auction, in the city of Memphis, State of Tennessee, after giving sixty days notice in one or more of the papers published in said city of Memphis, of the time and place of said sale, said sale to be made for cash or credit, as a majority of the beneficiaries in said Indenture of Trust named might direct, and out of the proceeds of said sale to pay said accommodation bills and the $ orsaid, and to pay the remainder, if any, over to said Arthur M. Hopkins, as will appear by reference to said Trust Deed, recorded in the Recorder's office of Cook county, Illinois, in Book 210 of Deeds, page 242.

And whereas, default has been made in the payment of said accommodation bills and note, and application has been made and a sale of said premises, for cash, has been directed by the undersigned, Trustee as aforesaid, under the terms of Trust name l, for the purpose of carrying out said Trust; now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that I will, on

Monday, 31st Day of August, A.D., 1868,

At the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the southwest corner of Court Square (and at the intersection of South Court with Main street), in the said city of Memphis, State of Tennessee, sell the premises above described, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash.

The title is believed to be good, but the undersigned will make no warranty.

Our Cotton market was without any change to-day, excepting increased firmness and greater scarcity of the staple. Only one sale worthy of note transpired or was reported—11 bales good style low middling at 29c. There is still a list of 40 bales on the market. It is called middling, but on a full and active market would not class higher than low middling, and is held at 30c.

The Liverpool market was unchanged; sales 8000 bales at yesterday's prices, 11¾d for uplands, and 11¾d for Orleans.

In the New York market there was a fair demand with limited offerings; sales 1500 bales.

The Liverpool statement for the week ending to-day is as follows: Sales, 56,000 bales, of which 7000 were to exporters and 4000 to speculators; stock, 603,000, of which 353,000 are American; stock afloat, 609,000, of which 36,000 are American. Compared with the last weekly statement, this shows a decrease of 7000 in sales to exporters, 5000 less to speculators, or a grand decrease of 12,000 bales; decrease in stock, 4000 bales; decrease in American, 14,000 bales; increase in amount afloat, 70,000 bales; decrease in American afloat, 3000 bales.
